

THE 35TH ANNUAL APPE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

March 5-8, 2026

St. Louis

WELCOME

TO THE 35TH ANNUAL APPE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Founded in 1991 as an organization dedicated to teaching and embedding the practice of ethics and ethical decision-making into all aspects of society, the work of the Association for Practical and Professional Ethics (APPE) is more relevant now than ever.

Through this conference and its other programming, APPE facilitates scholarly exchange, supports a network of individuals and institutions committed to bridging ethics theory with practice, and serves as an advocate for the practical application of ethical principles across all sectors of society.

Together, we take rigorous academic work and make it relevant and actionable in the real world. Because of the commitment and involvement of people like you, APPE is making a difference across the United States and beyond.

Opening Plenary: Should I Stay or Should I Go?

With increasing frequency, individuals in the United States are questioning whether they should leave the country, while people from other nations are reconsidering their plans to visit the U.S. for tourism, education, business, or other purposes. This questioning is driven by the perception that the current U.S. government is acting unjustly in various ways. Although this issue is particularly intense at present, it is not a new ethical dilemma. Rather, it is a contemporary manifestation of the broader ethical question: What are our obligations to others or ourselves if we find ourselves part of institutions that are acting unjustly? Should we remain within these institutions and strive to enact change from within, or should we leave in protest? This panel will explore these questions in the context of the current political turmoil in the United States.

Panelists:

- Derrick Crawford is an attorney based in Indianapolis. He is a former FBI agent, state prosecutor, and an attorney for the NFL.
- Edward "Ted" Frantz is a professor of history and chair of the Department of History and Political Science at the University of Indianapolis.
- Cynthia Stark is a professor of philosophy and department chair at the University of Utah who works on feminist, political and moral philosophy. Several of her recent publications are on the topic of gaslighting.
- Graham Parsons is a visiting professor at Vassar College and an adjunct lecturer at the Bard Prison Initiative. For several years he served as the Intercollegiate Ethics Bowl coach for the U.S. Military Academy, Westpoint.

The panel will be moderated by longtime APPE member and former APPE board chair Lisa M. Lee. Lisa is the senior associate vice president for research and innovation at Virginia Tech.

The Opening Plenary is sponsored by the Northern Plains Ethics Institute.

APPE Mentoring Workshop

This year's Mentoring Workshop will be an interactive, case-based, facilitated dialogue. Using material developed through the CARE (Conversations Around Research Ethics) program at the Center for Ethics and Human Values at The Ohio State University, the workshop will explore ethical challenges in mentoring through a structured discussion of selected cases. Through guided conversation, participants will reflect on shared responsibilities, expectations, and power dynamics in mentoring relationships. Individuals in all roles are encouraged to attend.

2:45pm – 4pm | Grand F

Ethics Roundtable: What Do We Owe Each Other? Ethics in the Age of Generative Tools

This roundtable explores the ethical responsibilities we carry in collaborative and learning environments, including how we uphold trust, accountability, and respect for intellectual labor in a culture where shortcuts are readily available. Participants will consider what we owe each other as students, educators, and citizens in shaping a more honest and values-based academic community.

Panelists include: Melissa Connor-Santos (Felician University), Simone Flowers-Taylor (Felician University), Mohammad Hosseini (Northwestern University), Jon Charry (UC Santa Barbara), David Resnik (National Institutes of Health), Stanley Maloy (San Diego State University), Kevin Doherty (Temple University), Niccollette Tamayo-Jimenez (Arnhold Institute of Global Health)

In addition to this event, Ethics Roundtables are offered three times a year (virtually) by Felician University, in partnership with APPE.

APPE Paper Awards Presentation

Keynote Address – Contractualism: A Framework for Hard Ethical Questions

Pamela Hieronymi, PhD, Professor of Philosophy at UCLA

Contractualism, as a moral theory, offers us a framework for thinking about hard ethical questions. While the theory will not, by itself, generate answers to such questions—it often leaves the hard questions hard—it can illuminate them. It can also help us to understand how our rights and obligations sometimes shift with the facts on the ground. Pamela will put these features on display.

The Keynote is sponsored by Research and Innovation Scholarly Integrity and Research Compliance, Virginia Tech.

Ethics and Applied Philosophy in the PDC E-Collection

The Philosophy Documentation Center provides access to an array of journals that explore moral and practical questions in business, education, the environment, government, health care, law, psychology, science, technology and more.

Explore unique journals and their take on important questions. All journals are fully searchable—back issues included with online access.

A peer-reviewed forum for interdisciplinary research that explores the systemic causes of ethical challenges in business and professional life. It publishes original articles that examine why global ethical issues, such as poverty alleviation and sustainability, emerge and persist.

Business and Professional Ethics Journal

www.pdcnet.org/bpej

Articles, reviews and discussions exploring the philosophical aspects of environmental problems. Since 1979 it has provided a peer-reviewed forum for diverse interests, bringing together the non-professional environmental philosophy tradition with the professional interest in the subject. Published by the Center for Environmental Philosophy at the University of North Texas.

Environmental Ethics

www.pdcnet.org/enviroethics

Peer-reviewed articles, discussion papers, and book reviews for persons working and thinking within the broad field of environmental philosophy. It welcomes diverse approaches to environmental issues, including those inspired by the many schools of Continental philosophy, studies in the history of philosophy, indigenous and non-Western philosophy, and the traditions of American and Anglo-American philosophy.

Environmental Philosophy

www.pdcnet.org/envirophil

Committed to the view that philosophy can and should be brought to bear upon the practical issues of life. It publishes peer-reviewed work in ethics and applied philosophy, focused on issues in business, education, the environment, government, health care, law, psychology, and science.

International Journal of Applied Philosophy

www.pdcnet.org/ijap

Peer-reviewed articles and reviews that examine social, economic, political and cultural problems within the context of Christian social ethics. It promotes scholarly work in Christian ethics and the relation of Christian ethics to other ethics traditions, and is an essential resource in religious studies.

Journal of the Society of Christian Ethics

www.pdcnet.org/jsce

The official journal of the National Catholic Bioethics Center, an organization dedicated to research and analysis of ethical issues arising in health care and the life sciences. The journal seeks to foster intellectual inquiry by publishing articles that address the ethical, philosophical, spiritual, and clinical questions raised by modern medical sciences.

The National Catholic Bioethics Quarterly

www.pdcnet.org/ncbq

This journal presents original work by leading social philosophers, political scientists, lawyers, and social scientists from various countries. It publishes peer-reviewed articles drawn from papers submitted for the North American Society for Social Philosophy (NASSP) conference, as well as original submissions not presented at the annual conference.

Social Philosophy Today

www.pdcnet.org/socphiltoday

Dedicated to ethical issues across the curriculum with particular attention to pedagogical methodology and practice in both academic inquiry and professional practice. The journal's editorial focus is on ethics as a dimension of all academic inquiry rather than as an isolated philosophical discipline.
